A NOTE FROM TRACY

Golf has been a part of my life for more than three decades, and I had the privilege of playing professionally for sixteen years. I am so grateful to have had the opportunity to play with and against the best women golfers in the world. Golf is a wonderful game that has impacted my life in significant ways, and I will always cherish the memories, experiences, and people I have met.

Golfing professionally was an amazing season of my life, but every season must come to a close eventually. At the end of 2009, I decided it was time for a new beginning. Now that I've officially retired, I have found a new freedom and peace as the Lord leads me into new adventures. But golf is still an important part of my life. Here are a few ways I'm using golf to give back:

Pro-Am Charity Events

I play in several Pro-Am charity events throughout the year, and I enjoy the opportunities to give back to the golf community.

Golf Clinics and Corporate Outings

I also use my expertise and speaking skills to teach others about the game of golf. This includes corporate outings and events.

Coaching and Mentoring

I want to use my experience and hard-earned wisdom to help young women deal with the emotional demands and spiritual challenges of playing golf professionally. As a result, I'm open to coaching and mentoring relationships with young players.
